

YES there is too much violence and explicit sexual content.. and inappropriate language on television. The TV is a bad influence on today's children. Even the evening new has too much graphic display that would be much better played on the "after 10 pm news".

Some of children are suffering and worrying way too much and others are becoming desensitized. This will effect their health and increase negative behaviors in their adult lives.